

Face Your Yesterdays

Four stories. Four characters dealing with sins of the past. Space Buggy Press invites you to visit four distinct worlds sprung from the mind of Mark Bousquet, a Pulp Ark-nominated Best Writer for 2015 and creator of GUNFIGHTER GOTHIC and AMERICAN HERCULES. In the Pretty Girl with the Ugly Name, a journalist struggles to put his experiences in World War II behind him, as he doggedly seeks to uncover the truth about American war hero, Diamond Dodson, who strapped Nazi rockets to his back and won the war for the Allies. Grant Jannen Cant Have Sex is the story of a hotheaded kid with the extraordinary power to make others obey his commands. In 1864, Mycroft Holmes walks into a grandmothers house, rescues a scarred teenager, and sends her to live with a mad captain in a futuristic submarine. Ten years later, Holmes needs Red the Riding Hoods assistance in stopping the notorious Mr. Fox. In The Better to See You With, Red must finally confront the truth of the Big Bad Wolf. And finally, in Appetite for Appeasement, Bellingham, a suave, debonair, time-traveling British spy, travels from the 44th century to 1939 to battle Nazi vampires at the dawn of World War II.
